

Making sense of DNA and family history

A friendly community for NZSG members

Learn · Share · Discover

01 Monthly meetings

Inspiration, ideas and real family stories

A few of our past talks

When

Last Wednesday of the month, February to November, 7.30 pm (NZT)

Where

Online, on Zoom, from your own armchair

No booking

The link comes to your inbox 48 hours and 2 hours before

What

A guest speaker, then time for questions. Core ideas and case studies. Once a year, a session built from members' questions.

Missed a meeting?

Every recording is in the Resource Room.

Would you like to present?

We're always looking for new speakers. Got a DNA story or a tool you love? We'd love to hear from you.

02 The Resource Room

Every recording, plus hundreds of resources reviewed by our team

Search the library

A word, a name or a subject, e.g. endogamy, Leeds, Thru 374 resources. Pick what you're trying to do, or search, or look by subject or author.

I want to... By subject By author A-Z What's new

I haven't tested yet and I'm not sure which test to buy

20 - Before You Test — Choosing a Test, Consent & Ethics

My results have just arrived — where do I start?

21 - Just Tested — Your First Steps

Four ways in

I want to...

Start from your question, in plain words.

By subject

The shelves: 29 headings, first steps to endogamy.

By author A-Z

When you remember who, but not what.

What's new

Just reviewed and added, monthly recordings too.

Less time searching the internet

Our team has reviewed every resource for you. Anyone can search; opening a resource is for ODIG members.

03 DNA education

A pathway of courses, from your first test to confident research

1 Technology Foundations

The basics you need to get started.

2 DNA Foundations

How DNA works and what the tests can (and can't) tell you.

3 DNA Beginners

Working your match list: shared matches, grouping, evidence.

4 DNA Intermediate

Going beyond the grandparent generation, and unknown matches.

5 DNA Advanced

Using the tools to crack your case.

Flexible learning

- Self-paced or live online, in a small group
- Course handbooks and practical exercises
- No science background needed
- Open to everyone · discounted for NZSG members

Join ODIG — free for NZSG members

Not an NZSG member yet? ODIG is reason enough to join.

genealogy.org.nz/join

Already a member?

Log in to the NZSG site first, then go to ODIG.

genealogy.org.nz/ODIG

Or join on our new website

Sign in with your email address. No password.

odig-platform.netlify.app

Questions?

Find us on Facebook, or email us.

facebook.com/NZSGOnlineDNAInterestGroup

onlinedna@genealogy.org.nz